SYNOD SESSIONS AT ROCKY MOUNT

Presbyterians of North Carolina Take Account of Successful Years Work.

MEMORIAL AND COMMUNION

American Bible Society Work—Great Address by Dr. Moore—The Orphanage—New Moderator. Other Proceedings.

(By Miss Mamie Bays.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 26.—The second day's session of the North Carolina Synod convened at 9 o'clock this morning, over 250 laymen and ministers being in attendance. The visitors are being handsomely entertained and the sessions are in the new Presbyterian church here, with Rev. W. D. Morton, D. D., as host.

The address of Rev. M. B. Porter before the Synod today revealed the fact that the Presbyterian Church gives a larger percentage to the American Bible Society than does any other denomination, although this contribution is but little more than two cents per member. Mr. Porter is district agent of the society.

He showed also that the Presbyterian church is the only church that co-ordinates the interests of the society along with its other beneficences.

The special order for 10:30 this morning was the communion service, followed by the memorial services. During the year just closed six ministers in Synod have died. Revs. M. C. Arrowood, John Wakefield, J. M. Pharr, C. W. Trawick, S. H. Isler and Joseph Evans. The ministers in charge of the service were Revs. J. M. Rose, R. P. Smith and D. I. Craig. The memoirs read were prepared by Revs. S. M. Rankin, H. G. Hill, J. B. Shearer, C. H. Munroe, A. M. McFadyen and J. M. Wells.

After this service Rev. Walter W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, was introduced and delivered an address that will live always in the minds of those who heard him. Dr. Moore is a native of North Carolina, and his tribute to the "Tar Heel" and the "Long leaf pine" was a tribute of such beauty and pathos as is seldom heard. Dr. Moore is universally honored and loved and no man will be accorded a more cordial hearing on the floor of this Synod than that accorded him. He spoke briefly in his closing words of the work of the Seminary, its work and its needs. He urged this Synod to take a deep interest in the campaign which has just been commenced by which it is hoped to raise an endowment of $300,000 before 1912, the centennial year of the seminary.

Rev. W. S. Lacy, field agent of the campaign, and Rev. A. D. Gilmour, an associate professor in the seminary, also spoke to Synod in the interest of the endowment.

A resolution from the Presbyterian Sunday Schools in Mecklenburg county, was read. This resolution recommended that the fourth Sabbath in each month be known as "Barium Springs Day", and that the contributions on that day be given to the Orphanage.

The Moderator.

Referring to the honor bestowed upon him in his election as Moderator of Synod, Hon. A. M. Scales, of Greensboro, said that while this honor had come to him very unexpectedly and as a great surprise, he would rather have Synod think him worthy of the honor than to receive any office in the power of the State to bestow. He said that he is a Presbyterian by inheritance and from choice since his childnood; that he believed the doctrine and polity of the Presbyterian church to be more in accord with that of the scriptures, but that he was always ready to unite efforts with other churches in the work of winning the world for Jesus Christ.

Mr. Scales is yet a young man, but is well known on account of his activity and splendid worth to the church and also on account of his excellent character as a citizen.

Union Seminary.

No report to come before Synod will claim a closer hearing or more careful consideration than that which will be accorded the report of Union Theological Seminary in Virginia. Since the last meeting of Synod 71 students have been enrolled at the Seminary, 42 of whom were college graduates, 19 without a literary degree and only six without any college education. In addition to the careful work they have done as students, they have been actively identified with Christian work in Richmond, in the city mission work being carried on there. In May of the present year eight young men were graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. The Seminary will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 1912 and the trustees hope very much to increase the endowment. The largest single donation received last year was one amounting to $20,000. The Synod of Virginia and the Synod of North Carolina are the controlling Synods of the Seminary and their interest in the work of securing an endowment of

SHERMAN IN NORTH CAROLINA

Library of Congress

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 26.—Hon. James Schoolcraft Sherman, vice president of the United States, arrived in the city this morning at 6:15 o'clock from Washington City and was met at the union station by a delegation of representative citizens who extended to him the hospitalities of the city and preceeded to entertain him which was elaborately carried out until the noon hour.

From the train the Vice President was escorted to the Hotel Kennon where breakfast was served, and where he rested until 9 o'clock, after which he was taken for a tour of the city, including a visit to the graded schools, and at 10 o'clock he was escorted to the Elks Club where a public reception was held in his honor until 11:30 o'clock.

The Vice President was then accompanied to the Messenger Opera House where he made a speech.

The opera house was filled to its capacity with a representative audience to hear the Vice President's speech and they gave him considerate hearing throughout his rather labored, though at times, witty and pyrotechnical address.

He was presented by Hon. W. S. O'B. Robinson, who was most happy in spirit and expression, and though his remarks were appropriately brief, he was twice interrupted by spontaneous applause. The Vice President began his speech by expressing his very great appreciation of the popular reception extended him here, his gratification at the evidences of prosperity and progress on every hand, and his satisfaction at finding no narrow sectionalism here.

At Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 26.—Hon. James S. Sherman, vice-president of the United States, in his campaign speech here tonight, paid tribute to President Taft by declaring: "Taft is a mighty good President. Some think because he tries to find ways around obstacles and to maintain harmony, he is not strong, but no man will stand firmer or strive with more tendency than he to carry out what he knows the people want."

This expression is especially significant in the light of the recent publications as to relations between Sherman and Taft, growing out of the New York contest. Mr. Sherman's speech dealt entirely with National political issues with special reference to securing of votes for Republican candidates for Congress, so that Republican principles of government shall be continued, with, in the light of his speech, comprise chiefly protective tariff and the gold standard.

He was introduced by ExJudge W. P. Bynum, Jr., of Greensboro, and was roundly applauded by an audience that packed the Metropolitan Hall to the doors. He had spent a delightful day, he said, beginning at Goldsboro, where he was greeted by Governor Kitchin, a former esteemed colleague in Congress, by the Mayor of Goldsboro and other prominent Democrats as well as Republicans, and that he enjoyed viewing the splendid fields of cotton and other crops, the exeellent farm houses, the factories and mill sand other evidences of prosperity and enterprise on every hand as he passed along through the State. While he had been introduced as the Vice-President of the United States, he really, he said, laaside that official personality as he entered the hall and was before his audience to reason together as to the issues involved in the campaign. He declared that he never had any sympathy with a campaign of viturperation and bitter personalities, although some such conditions exist in New York, and also, possibly in North Carolina.

He preferred a broader plane of contending over issues as to government policies and insisted that both parties desired the attainment of greatest prosperity and happiness of people, the difference being as to policies each believe would best attain these ends. He confessed to a strong impression that great numbers of people in North Carolina voted the Democratic ticket from habit, because their fathers voted it before them. His father was a Democrat, he said. The burden of his speech was a contrasting of conditions during the Cleveland administration and for the 12 years of Republican administration since, giving to the Republican gold standard and protective tariff full credit for the prosperous conditions.

This evening at 6 o'clock Vice-President Sherman was the guest of honor at a dinner at which were present members of the Supreme Court, State officers and other distinguished guests.

Following the speech tonight he met hundreds of the foremost people of the city at a reception by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Andrews and thereafter he was entertained at the Elk's Temple until his train left for Greensboro at 2 o'clock.

The Programme Today.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 26.—Vice President James S. Sherman will be the guest of the city of Charlotte tomorrow. The distinguished visitor will be met at Salisbury at noon by a committee of prominent local Republicans. On arrival here he will be escorted to the Southern Manufacturers' Club where he will dine. At 8 o'clock he will address a mass meeting of citizens in the auditorium, and after the speaking will be tendered a public reception at the club. He will speak at several other points in the State under the auspices of the Republican State Committee.

AVIATORS IN AIR AFTER NIGHTFALL

Thrilling Flights to Capture Prizes Marked the Fifth Day of Meet.

THE HOXSEY-JOHNSTONE STUNT

A Northernly Gale Postponed the Events Yesterday.—Five Contestants in Cross-Country Flight.—Features.

New York, Oct. 26.—When dusk began to settle on the aviation field at Belmont Park, L. I., this afternoon, there were twelve aeroplanes in the air at once, and when night shut down two of them were still lost in the black void above. There was no moon and it was by the almost imperceptible glow of the stars that they were first sighted winging their way back to the earth.

"There he is!" shouted one watcher, "right up there above the center of the field against that brightest star." Indeed something hovered in the gloom like a bat could be seen growing momentarily larger. Presently there was another blot a little blacker than the blackness of the background and both Hoxsey and Johnstone alighted safely in midfield within a few moments of each other.

"I don't know how high I was," said Johnstone, "but ... I was not higher up than Hoxsey, I'll never trust a barograph again. I stayed up there till I saw him start down and then stayed up some more to make sure twice."

But Johnstone was mistaken. His baragraph registered only 5,763 feet against 6,173 for Hoxsey.

A northerly gale that took all the warmth out of the sunshine delayed or caused the postponement of all the events today in this, the fifth day, of the International Aviation Meet.

The wind came up before the dawn and held all morning at between 30 and 40 miles an hour, but it began to moderate in the afternoon and by a quarter to three had gone down to 14 miles an hour.

Just to show what could be done in bad weather, Johnstone, of the Wright team, took up a steady biplane. Against the wind he seemed to make almost no progess, so stiff were the upper currents, but down the wind he fairly whizzed. His performance put heart into the other aviators and doors were soon swinging wide and engines were warming up all along the line of hangars.

Five starters were announced in a cross-country race to a captive balloon ten miles east of the course and return, and four started. Latham in a 50 horsepower Antoinette was the first to cross the line and he fled down the wind lake a dart. In the bright sunshine he was long visible.

Auburn followed him and after Auburn, Drexel and LeBlanc, captain of the French team, both in Bleriots.

This was the first appearance of Le Blanc the "school master of the air". His airmanship seemed splendid as he shot low before the grand stand on an even keel, straight for the mark but Scholar Auburn beat the master, and for that matter, the other contenders. Auburn's time was 28 minutes, 8.75 seconds.

Latham finished in 32 minutes 14.71. His speed down the wind in the first leg was prodigious. The timer at the ballon reported that he covered the ten miles and passed the mark out bound in 8 minutes.

Later records showed that Auburn did the same distance in seven minutes. The figures are unofficial and inexact, but they amazed those who heard them. Drexel was third in the event in slow time and LeBlanc returned without covering the entire course.

The cross-country race had barely begun when eight men went out for distance and two for altitude. That made the ten, and two of the cross-country flyers were still to return—twelve in the air at once.

Brookins, driving the "baby" Wright racer, made up the distance he had lost in starting late and soon led the field by two laps.

One and another of the competitors dropped out and the field narrowed down to Parmalee of the Wright team, in his first appearance, Brookins, the Wright racer, and Latham who had immediately entered the distance on his return from the cross-country race. Brookins dropped out for no apparent reason and left first place safe for Latham, who had no trouble lapping the standard Wright biplane—a safe family horse, but no racer—and finished one round to the good.

Hoxsey and Johnstone, on the keenest rivalry, were striving to outsoar each other and the crowd grew fearful for their safety as the dusk gathered. Workers in the Wright quarters poured out little puddles of gasoline on the field and lighted them for torches. Guided by the flames and the winking of the brilliant gas lamps in front of the hangars they found their way home.

The Gordon Bennett trials scheduled for this afternoon were repeatedly announced and postponed and the American team knew not wnether they were on or off, finally were set for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Hamilton, Moisant, the Wright Brothers and Glenn H. Curtiss made vigorous protest. "Nine o'clock is the very worst time in the day to fly," they told the aviation committee, "the wind always blows at 9 o'clock."

It was agreed to call the trials at 9 o'clock tomorrow, but with a saving clause which permits any aviator to start when he chooses, provided only that he shall finish before 5:30 in the afternoon. This concession proved satisfactory.

Moisant will enter in the elimination trials tomorrow as also in the special flight for $10,000 to the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor and return. He said tonight that he should lay his course straight to the mark, wthout regard for the roof tops and pinnacles of the greater city. He expects to fly ata height of at least 3,000 feet.

Count de Lesseps rose very late in the day for altitude and brought back third place.

TWO RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

Florida Farmer and Escaped Convict Killed by Posse—Follows Triple Murder at Fort Meyers. Woman Was Victim.

Fort Myers, Fla., Oct. 26.—E. J. Watson, a well known farmer, and Leslie Cox, an escaped convict, under life sentence for murder, were riddled with bullets last night by a posse which went to Chatham Bend Sunday to capture the slayers of Miss Ellen Smith, A. Waller and "Dutchy" Reynolds ten days ago. The three were killed.

Watson reported the killing of the three persons at Fort Meyers last Saturday. He claimed that he had captured Cox and produced the latter's coat and gun as evidence. He was asked to produce the man and to find him, a posse accompanied Watson to Chatham Bend.

Arriving there, Watson joined Cox, both made a desperate resistance, and were riddled with bullets. The tripie murder was committed by Cox and a negro now in jail here. The negro confessed describing how the bodies had been cut open and weighted so that when thrown into water they would sink. He declared that the murder was done at the instance of Watson, who owed the three victims money.

Miss Smith, one of the victims, was a unique character, being of masculine proportions and living by herself on the edge of the Everglades. She hunted and trapped and was called "Big Squaw" by the Indians.

CAPTAIN STAYED BY SHIP.

Dismantled Schooner Hollis wood Towed Into Port by British Steamer.

Galveston, Texas, Oct. 26.—Dismantled, waterlogged and with 14 feet of water in her hold, the four-masted schooner Hollis wood, was towed into port late today by the British steamer Parkwood, herself eight days overdue from Trinidad. Captain E. E. Walls, of the disabled hulk, is still aboard his craft, after a harrowing experience.

The other seven men of the crew were taken off by a New York bound steamer several days before the Hollis wood was picked up.

The Parkwood, tossed out of her path by the Gulf storm, sighted the Hollis wood off the Campeche banks at 550 miles from Galveston, on October 19, disabled and apparently abandoned.

When the wreck was boarded Captain Walls was found, all but crazed for the want of food and water.

At first it was decided to destroy the vessel as a dangerous derelict, but Walls refused to leave his ship and it was finally determined to make an effort to reach Galveston with the schooner in tow.

ALTON B. PARKER FLAYS ROOSEVELT

SAYS TEDDY IS DISTURBED

Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Judge Alton B. Parker, in the course of a political speech here tonight, referred at some length to Colonel Roosevelt's remarks concerning "the alleged political circular, alleged to have been mailed by somebody in Tammany Hall to some alleged person in Wall street." Quoting Mr. Roosevelt, Judge Parker said:

"This is what our colonel says: 'Now one of the honest men of Wall street has sent me a letter, and in it he has put one of the circulars sent out by Tammany Hall to the Wall street ticker crowd. The circular says that this campaign more than any other will affect the business of the financial interests and every Wall street man ought to give it serious thought.'

"Observe in passing, that the colonel admits that there is one honest man in Wall street. So that will make two honest men in this State that this campaign has thus far developed. Possibly with accustomed modesty, hetold you when here to who the other one was.

"The colonel is unnecessarily disturbed. He would make a legitimate appeal for the funds needed for the legitimate expenditures of a campaign—the issue of the hour—a 'vital issue', as he puts it. No, that won't do. Nobody will take that seriously. Everybody knows by this time that the Democratic party in this fight stands for tranquility and business peace and is opposed to the wild doctrines of Roosevelt, which would unsettle values, disturb business and renew the panic from which the country suffered during his administration. That is the fact, the truth. Is the colonel such a stranger to truth that he doesn't know it when he meets it?

"The colonel also tells us that the 'big Roosevelt doctrine' is 'Thou shalt not steal,' and that he is waging a decent campaign for decency's sake, yet in the same breath he renews his charge, a charge that every other citizen of the State now knows is unfounded—that John A. Dix was part and parcel of the Wall Paper trust, which was righteously dissolved by the court.

"Mr. Dix asks for an apology from his detractor. Will he get it? No. The colonel will continue to steal away the good name of Mr. Dix. He will continue to tell you not to steal. This 'big Roosevelt doctrine' resolves itself into this, 'don't do as I do, but do as I tell you. The King can do no wrong.' Is this waging a decent campaign for decency?

"With the same disregard for fact, the colonel has declared that the Democratic convention has nominated for governor a former judge, who was the man who took the view that it was competent for the workman, when driven to accept any employment, to bind himself not to be compensated if he lost life or limb in that occupation. The Democratic candidate in that State, Simon E. Baldwin, is known to the legal fraternity as one of its most accomplished members.

"I never took such a view, "he writes ex-President Roosevelt.

"Such a view would oppose to the settled principles of law and no competent lawyer could take it. He too asks the price paid for the retraction. 'If,' says Judge Baldwin 'You did in fact make the charge against me or one substantially of that character I write to request that you would retract, as it is one calculated to affect my standing as a lawyer, at least among those who do not know me, as well as to prejudice my position as candidate for public office.' The colonel would also steal Judge Baldwin's good name away from him and the courts may be invoked to preserve to the judge what is his own.

"Is this waging a decent campaign for decency? Let me commend to Mr. Roosevelt's serious consideration a single thought: 'Thou shalt not steal' was only one command that was thundered from the Mount. There was another just as plain, just as clear, just as emphatic, which was this, 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'"

Centers Attack on Dix.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 26.—John A. Dix, Democratic candidate for governor came in for some rather hard knocks from ex-President Roosevelt today. Starting in at Syracuse, Colonel Roosevelt pushed his way northward until he arrived tonight at Ogdensburg. All along his way he kept up his attack on the head of the Democratic ticket. With it all he coupled praise of Mr. Dix's Republican opponent, Henry L. Stimson.

Colonel Roosevelt carried his attack on Mr. Dix a point further today by asserting that the records of the Secretary of State at Albany proved that the Standard Wall Paper Company, with which Mr. Dix is connected, was virtually indentical with the concern of the same name which went out of existence in 1903, and which, it is claimed, was a part of the Wall Paper trust. He also reiterated his charges against Tammany Hall and Wall street and his denial of the assertion that "Rooseveltism" is a menace.

The people of nine northern New York towns gave the colonel a cordial reception today. They filled the streets and jammed the halls in which he spoke. His reception here tonight was the liveliest he has had in the campaingn.

Alton B. Parker, who is campaigning for Mr. Dix, happened into Richland just as Colonel Roosevelt was attacking Mr. Dix in a speech at the railway station.

"I think I'll go down and hear him," said Mr. Parker and he walked toward the crowd and stopped within about 50 feet from the man who defeated him for the presidency, and listened.

"I say, colonel, Judge Parker can't hear," some one in the crowd shouted.

The colonel stopped talking for a moment and looked around, but did not see Mr. Parker. The latter turned away and walked into the station. Colonel Roosevelt will continue his speech-making tour tomorrow.

CUMBERLAND FAIR OPENED

Wilmington and Donaldson Play Football to a Tie.—Weather Ideal and Exhibits Great.—Racing Spirited.—Other Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 26.—The Wilmington High School and Donaldson Military School played their annual football game at the Cumberland Fair today, the score being 5 to 5 in a see-saw contest. A fumbled forward pass in the shadow of Wilmington's goal lost for Donaldson, though the cadets made frequent gains by the forward pass. Parsley and R. Burnette played a strong game for Wilmington, while Jones, Cook and McFa... shone for Donaldson. Mike Rolb's sixty-yard run after catching a punt was very brilliant.

The 48th annual fair of the Cumberland County Agricultural Society opened here today under the most favorable auspices. The opening was marked by a spectacular street pageant. Exhibits are of high class racing, midway attractions and are unusually good. The weather ideal and the attendance is record breaking.

2:50 Class, County Horses—Prince Monval won, time, 2:59 1-2, owned by W. H. Eden, Gentry. Dictales and Spot owned by J. Sprunt Newton and Lee McLarin, respectively, divide second and third money.

REFUSES TO TELL NAMES.

Witness Before Commerce Commission Knew of Rebating.—Details.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Rebating as practiced by carriers and shippers, prior to 1906, and the passage of the Hepburn act, was the principal theme of discussion at the afternoon session of the Western Freight rate hearing today before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A specific demand was made for the names of railway officials and shippers concerned in rebating, before 1906, of which the witness, W. P. Trickett, of Minneapolis, said he had personal knowledge.

Attorneys for the shippers protested that the desired information was not material, that the commission in a number of cases was informed of the practice of rebating, but the counsel for the railroads stuck to his question. The tense situation was relieved when the witness dodged the issue by declining to give the names.

"I will not give in public the names of the officials of the Great Western railroad, who gave the rebates, nor of the shippers who received it," said Mr. Trickett.

"I connot—two of them have passed on. I can give you contracts showing rebates, or I can comply with the suggestion that I give you the information in writing, but I must decline to name them from the stand."

The demand was pressed no further by Attorney J. B. Payne, general counsel for the Chicago Great Western Railroad, after the positive refusal to testify on the specific transaction.

The question of rebates came up in connection with the preceeding witness, "H. G. Wilson, transportation commissioner of the Kansas Ctiy Commercial Club.

In enumerating different advances in rates since 1901, Mr. Wilson testified that in 1906 after the passage of the Hepburn act that freight rates were advanced. He estimated that prior to then, rebates on many articles transported from the Atlantic seaboard to Missouri river points amounted to forty per cent. of the regular tariffs. Mr. Wilson testified he had no personal knowledge of rebates.

AERONAUTS SAFE AFTER LONG TRIP

MADE A NEW WORLD'S RECORD

Hawley and Post in the America II. Traveled 1,350 Miles—Telegrams Received at New York—Search Ended.

Chicoutimi, Que., Oct. 26.—Thoroughly fatigued and showing plentiful marks of an arduous week of struggling through the dense wilderness of Northern Canada, Messrs. Hawley and Post, the insatiable aeronauts who, according to available data sailed the America II., nearly 70 miles farther than any other contestants in the big balloon race for the Gordon Bennet cup, arrived here this evening.

They landed at 3:45 Wednesday afternoon, October 19, 1,500 feet upon the face of a mountain, which, as they could reckon, lies about 58 miles north of Chicoutimi and about eight miles north of Lake Tshistigam. They had been involved in a snow storm which was accompanied by a change in the wind to a more northerly direction, which bade fair to carry them to the Labrador coast. The adverse conditions compelled them to land, much against their wishes. Landing was effected easily and the balloon was left in good condition. Sanguinely they started to get to the nearest settlement. They were uncomfortably near the end of their provisions, but recounting the story of their experiences tonight, they made light of that feature. They had confidence, they said, in their ability to obtain sufficient game to prevent starvation.

For three nights they were obliged to sleep in the open air. It was a stiff fight through snow in forests. The weather was exceedingly cold. Then the camp of a trapper was struck on the river Alours. A days' rest was enjoyed there in the deserted hut. Monday four trappers appeared and took them down the stream in their canoes to St. Ambroise, a little settlement 40 miles from here. A six hours' drive brought them here tonight. Tomorrow night they expect to be in Quebec.

New York, Oct. 26.—Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post, the aeronauts of the balloon America II., for whom search had been prosecuted in the Canadian wilds, are safe and have established a new world's record for sustained flight. They traveled approximately 1,350 miles and came to earth in Chicoutimi county Quebec, on Wednesday last, but were not heard from until today, when the telegrams sent from St. Ambroise, Quebec, reached New York.

The balloonists started from St. Louis with nine other contestants in the International Contest on Monday, October 17th. All the other balloons have been reported.

Two messages from Hawley and Post were received in New York early tonight. One was to William Hawley, brother of the aeronaut; the other to Samuel F. Perkins, pilot of the balloon Dusseldorf II., which until tonight had been considered the winner. The message to Mr. Hawley read:

"Landed in wilderness week ago, 50 miles north of Chicoutimi. Both well.

"Alan."

The Perkins message ran:

"Landed Paribonka river, north Lake Chilogana, nineteenth. All well; returning. Hawley, Post."

With receipt of the news there ended a search which had come to be regarded by many as almost hopeless and in which the governments of this country and Canada were indirectly participating. For, in addition to emissaries sent by the Aero Club of St. Louis, the Aero Club of America and by William Hawley, the United States Revenue Cutter Service; and signal corps of the army, the Hudson Bay Company and other agents were conducting the search, scouring the Great Lakes and making preparations for entering the almost impenetrable Canadian forests.

Clifford B. Harmon, the wealthy amateur aeronaut and aviator of New York, had offered $1,000 for any for any one finding Hawley and Post dead or alive, and this sum had been increased tonight by subscription to more than $7,000. At the annual aviation meet at Belmont Park, nearly $2,000 was subscribed among the aviators this afternoon, headed by $500 pledged by Glenn H. Curtiss.

Young Perkins, who accompanied Lieutenant Hans Gericke, in the Dusseldorf, conceded immediately after receiving the telegram from Hawley and Post, that he and the German had lost first place to the New Yorkers. Perkins has estimated the distance traveled by the Dusseldorf at 1,240 miles. He was overjoyed at hearing from his long lost rivals and quickly dispatched to St. Ambroise with instructions to forward this message of congratulations to Messrs. Hawley and Post:

"Indications are that you have broken the world's record for sustained flight in a balloon. Please accept my sincerest congratulations on your success. You are the only ones I would be glad to see win outside myself.

Closing of Contest.

Just ten more days and the Great Popularity Contest of the Star will draw to a close, and some one will be made the happy possessor of some one of the 34 valuable premiums that are being offered by the Morning Star.

From now until the close of the contest these prizes will be on exhibition, and explained so that each and every contestant will know exactly what they will receive according to their standing in the Star's contest.

The contest will close exactly at 10 o'clock Monday night, November the 7th. There will be no putting off, it will be prompt. And so it is best that those who are really interested do their best and best work in the short time that is allowed.

There will be some one at the close that will say, "Oh, if I had only had one more yearly subscription," or, "If I only had five minutes more I know where I could get one." Don't put it off till the last, and then there will be no regrets. Those who are working for their favorite must utilize the short time available in showing their favorite that they do really want them to win, by their effort, that must truly prove to them that they are really interested.

Expenses Defrayed.

In the trips to Cuba, don't forget that all expenses are paid, from the time the winner leaves this dock till she arrives home again. There is no half-way business about it.

Vote Coupons.

The standing of the contestants will be published from now on each day. Get your coupons in before noon to appear next day, for if you do not, they will not be counted till the following day. Collect as many of them as you can as they count up very fast. Of course, these little coupons are a valuable asset to your candidacy, but the more valuable are the coupons that you will receive for subscriptions, which may be held until the last night of the contest, if so desired.

Far off in the distance can be heard a low rumble, which seems to be gradually growing louder and louder. This to the contest department appears to be the act of preparation for the final of the great battle of ballots. Deploying and skirmishing, each contestant is gathering her or his forces together, exerting every effort for the final finish.

The race is getting more exciting every moment as the contest draws nearer the day when 34 young people, residents of the Carolinas, will be rewarded for their strenuous campaign with the various prizes which they have justly earned.

PERISHED IN HURRICANE.

Brothers Died in Vain Attempt to Save Each Other.

Cincinnati, Oct. 26.—How W. F. and J. M. Taylor, brothers, of Columbus, Ohio, perished in the recent hurricane on the Gulf of Mexico one dying in a vain attempt to save the other is told in a dispatch from Mobile, Ala., received by the Times-Star today. The men were en route to the Isle of Pines where they had business interests in addition to a wholesale establishment at Columbus.

When the storm struck the vessel on which they were voyaging one of the brothers tied himself to a mast. The other, after trying vainly to keep a foothold on the deck, fell exhausted and was washed overboard. None of the crew could aid him in that terrific tempest, but the remaining brother is said to have loosened the bonds that held him to the mast and dropped into the sea. The act in the face of the conditions was little short of suicide, according to the survivors of the storm.

MACK ALSO WINS BRIDE.

Manager of Athletics and Philadelphia Girl to Marry Soon.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—News of interest to the baseball followers leaked out at City Hall today, when it was learned that a marriage license had been issued to Connie Mack, manager of the world's champions, and Miss Katherine Hallohan, a West Philadelphia girl.

Neither Mack nor his intended bride appeared at the hall, but as the baseball manager practically owns Philadelphia these days, the marriage license clerk stretched a rule and granted the license on affidavits sworn to before a notary public.

The marriage probably will be celebrated in St. James' Catholic church. When the Rector was asked the date he said the marriage would probably take place in two weeks, but that only those directly interested would be told the date by the rector.

NEED MORE DOLLAR BILLS.

Secretary MacVeagh will Have Enough Printed to Meet Demand.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The old United States $1 note which disappeared from circulation in 1885 is to be called into service again. Secretary MacVeagh today decided that the enormous demand for bills of smaller denomination warrants an issue, which was authorized in 1907, but until now has never seemed really necessary.

The plates which have been preserved in the bureau of printing and engraving, will be pressed into service and beginning tomorrow the notes will be

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

New Trial in Penny Damage Suit—Other Decisions.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 26.—The North Carolina Supreme Court delivered opinions this evening in 15 appeals as follows: Lancaster vs. Insurance Co., Edgecombe, no error: Henderson Lighting & Wire Co., vs. Cacualty Co., Vance, reversed; in re Mary Jane Jones, Vance, reversed; Penny vs. A. C. L. Railroad, New Hanover, new trial; Nowell vs. Royall Cotton Mills, Wake, no error; Steinhilper vs. Basnight, Cumberland, both appeals affirmed; Moffitt vs. Smith, Columbia, no error; State vs. Stone (Scoggins' appeal) Lee, affirmed; State vs. Coffey, Union, no error; State vs. Huntley, Anson, no error; Dunlap vs. Willett, Chatham no error; Webster vs. Williams, Lee, no error. In the matter of James Norwood, Orange, appeal dismissed for failure to file brief; Sparkman vs. Durham Cotton Mills, Durham, appeal dismissed for failure to group exceptions as required by Rule 19, part 2; Lily vs. Rose, Cumberland, the court being evenly divided in opinion (Walker J., taking no part in the decision), the judgment stands affirmed.

Of the opinions handed down by the Supreme Court in Raleigh yesterday, greatest local interest was in the case of B. F. Penny against the Atlantic Coast Line, which has been on the docket in New Hanover for the past 12 years, and in which the jury at a late term of Superior Court here gave the plaintiff a verdict of $5,000, after half a dozen trials before. Under the opinion of the Supreme Court yesterday, the case will have to go on the trial docket in the Superior Court here at a forthcoming term.

TIMES EXPLOSION CASE.

State Department Does Not Act—After Mexican Suspects.

Washington, Oct. 26.—An official of the State Department said tonight that there had been no direct communication between the Department and California authorities relating to the reported arrest in Mexico of suspects in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case. It was regarded as probable, however, that there had been communication in the matter between the authorities and American Consul Brickwood, at Tapachula, Mexico. No report from Consul Brickwood has reached Washington as yet.

Los Angeles, Ca., Oct. 26.—With the special grand jury in readiness District Attorney McComas, who will have charge of the Times building explosion investigation, is waiting for word from Earl Rogers, who went North last night to serve subpoenas on witnesses in San Francisco.

If Rogers can bring certain witnesses here in time the taking of testimony will begin tomorrow.

Officers denied knowing anything about the intention of Mexican officers to arrest as dynamite suspects three passengers aboard the Pacific Mail steamer San Juan at Acapulco.

VERDICT IN MINING CASE.

Decided in Favor of North Carolina Mining Co.—May Take Appeal.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 26.—After running the gauntlet of many courts for 11 years, including the Supreme Court of the United States, the jury in the noted "copper mine case" of Westfeldt vs. Adams and the North Carolina Mining Company, brought in a verdict in favor of the latter at Waynesville late this afternoon. The last two trials of this case resulted in victories for the Westfeldt heirs, the latter, after a hard fight, succeeding in throwing the equity case brought by their opponents out of the United States court. It is probable that an appeal will be taken to the State Supreme Court.

The subject of litigation is 200 acres of land on Hazel Creek in Swain county, which contains a bed of copper ore claimed to be of surpassing value. The property is said to be worth a million dollars.

SHOW MANAGER ARRESTED.

Man in Charlotte Charged With Violating White Slave Law.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 26.—Charged with a violation of the Federal law against traffic in white slaves, C. W. Quarster, manager of a midway show at a fair in progress here, was arrested here this afternoon by Postoffice Inspector J. W. Bulla and Secret Service Agent H. E. Thomas. In default of bond of $1,000 the prisoner was committed for a preliminary examination tomorrow before Commissioner Cobb.

Quarster had three girls in his show one of whom he is alleged to have enticed from her home in Baltimore. She was detained at a local hotel as a witness against the man, with her companions. The detectives decline to reveal the identity of the girl, who is an attractive young woman of 18.

COL. McLEAN BROUGHT HOME.

Prominent Lumberton Attorney Became Ill on Seaboard Train.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 26.—Col. N. A. McLean, who was taken very sick Monday on a train just before reaching Laurinburg where he was going to attend court, was sufficiently improved to be brought back home today. Dr. N. A. Thompson, the family physician, went to Laurinburg on the early train this morning to accompany Col. McLean home and at 1 o'clock tonight reports him as resting well. He seems to have had an attack of something like sciatica or rheumatism with which he has suffered some before but never so violent an attack as the last one.

His wife and nine children survive him.

GLENN FOLLOWS SHERMAN.

Ex-Governor Delivers Great Speech in Goldsboro Last Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 26.—In a speech tonight in the Opera House following Vice President Sherman this afternoon, Hon. R. B. Glenn scored the Republican party, dwelling mainly upon the present conditions of the high cost of living which he said was due to the tariff tax. Mr. Glenn was repeatedly interrupted by spontaneous applause from his audience and the impression which his statements made was evidenced by the earnest attention accorded him throughout his speech. His remarks were quiet, direct and clean and his statement that he stood there to criticise conditions and systems and not to abuse individual Republicans was adhered to throughout his address. The course of his remarks in regards to the high tariff tax the speaker said: "I am not here to condemn the men who at this time happened to be in line to profit from this system, but to censure and criticise that state of political government under which the whole control and management of public affairs has been allowed to gravitate from the hands of the people into the domination and "control of a little charmed circle."

Discussing the National and State issues the speaker urged the election of Congressmen whose adherence to principles of just protection would be natural and necessary under the platform of his party, whose sympathy of platform and opinion would place him in harmony with the poor working man.

"This is going to be a Democratic year" was the prediction of Mr. Glenn, who stated that he believed the Democratic party would win out with a majority of 40,000 or 50,000. He said that the next president of the United States would be a Democrat either from the State of Ohio or New Jersey. "The Republican party has fooled the people their last time," said the speaker. "On November 1st, the watchman on the tower will call out, the wind has gone down, all is well."

TAFT APPOINTS A NEGRO.

Makes Lewis Assistant Attorney General of the United States.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Announcement was made at the White House today that President Taft has decided upon the appointment of William H. Lewis, a negro, at present assistant district attorney at Boston, to be an assistant attorney general of the United States. Lewis was born in Portsmouth, Va. His father was a respected colored minister. Young Lewis was ambitious and worked as a waiter to earn his college expenses. His sister is the wife of Dr. France, a negro physician of Portsmouth.

Just what duties will be assigned to the new assistant when he takes office have not been decided. Lewis is a graduate of Amherst and Harvard, and played on the Harvard football team as center rush. He enjoyed the reputation of being one of the best players in that position ever at the Cambridge University.

The appointment of Lewis is in line with President Taft's policy of recognizing colored men in the government service, but taking these appointments as far as possible out of the Southern States, where friction has been caused in the past by colored Federal officeholders.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 26.—William H. Lewis, who is President Taft's choice for assistant attorney general, is at present in charge of the naturalization cases for the United States attorney for the Massachusetts district. Lewis was born in Portsmouth, Va., and after being graduated from the constitution in 1895. During his stay at Harvard he played center rush on the 1892 and 1893 football teams.

He served one year in the lower branch of the Massachusetts Legislature. Lewis was appointed an assistant United States attorney in 1903 and has been connected with that office ever since.

CORRUPTION IN PORTUGAL.

Revealed in Investigation of Old Regime — Dismiss Employes.

Lisbon, Oct. 26—Jose Relvas, Minister of finance in an interview today declared that he was appalled at the corruption of the old regime, which his investigation is revealing. For the future, he said, it would be war to the knife against special privilege abuses It was almost unnecessary to say that all the old government employes would be dismissed.

The king's civil list of 800,000, the minister decided, will be re-placed by a modest presidential salary. Taxes on necessities would be reduced and those on luxuries increased. The richer classes who hitherto have been evading taxes will be closely watched.

In conclusion Senior Relvas expressed the opinion that the saparatoin of the church and State would be accomplished, with a month.

TRAGEDY IN COLUMBUS.

Aged Woman Burned to Death—Mill Pond Drawn Off.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 26.—The great meeting of the Farmers' Union at Chadbourn yesterday was marred by a horrible tragedy; but not one person in ten who was there knew of the occurrence until the proceedings of the day were ended. About 1 o'clock a gentleman chanced to be passing a house where Mr. A. J. White lived, the building belonging to Rev. F. T. Wooten. He saw smoke issuing from a room, and on entering found an old lady enveloped in flames. He threw a quilt over her and succeeded in smothering the flames, but not until the unfortunate victim was burned to death. It proved to be a worthy old lady, Aunt Bettie Fields, who was 100 years old and blind. Mr. White was her son-in-law, and she lived with him. The family were attending the meeting, and the old lady was alone. It is presumed that she started to the fire, as the weather was somewhat cool, and her clothing caught. It was a most lamentable accident, as "Aunt Bett", as every one called her, was popular and had always been noted for her industry.

The old Memory mill pond on the suburbs of Whiteville, was drawn off yesterday, and it was found to be alive with fish, over 2,000 fine trout were caught, and that evening two wagons loaded with fish were on the court house square, selling fish at 25 cents a peck. Everybody is feasting on them, and this morning another wagon load was brought in. There are said to be as many more fish left in the ponds of water. Some very large carp were also caught.

KING VIEWS DESTRUCTION.

Visits Island of Ischia Recently Struck by Hurricane.

Casamicciola, Island of Ischia, Oct. 26.—King Victor Emmanuel today visited the Island of Ischia, where he viewed the destruction wrought by the recent hurricane and cheered the suffering people. Many Americans learning of the king's visit, came from the Island of Capri to join in greeting his majesty.

For an hour or two the King drove about in a small primitive vehicle, but was soon obliged to abandon this, going about fallen trees, collapsed houses and houses of mud and stones. Although bespattered with grime and sometimes mud up to the knees His Majesty made the rounds of the entire district. He saw more than 400 wrecked houses.

Casamicciola has been a favorite resort on account of its hot springs, and the King expressed regret that the sources of these waters, which brought about riches to the island, were now buried. The damage is roughly estimated at about $10,000,000.

Prior to his departure for Naples this evening, the island women, many of them carrying babies, crowded around the King, wishing to kiss his hand, at which His Majesty was greatly affected.

In Sudden Emergencies

like illness, it is often necessary quickly to raise the temperature of a room. For instance, in those hours between midnight and dawn, when the day temperature has been allowed to drop, if you are called upon to get up, the room is chilly and cold. It takes a long time to start up a furnace or fire and raise the temperature by ordinary means.

You can instantly heat a room to any desired temperature with a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

It quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic-locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be cleaned in an instant. It has a cool handle and a damper top.

An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. It has a filler-cap which does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for rewicking.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel. It is strong, durable and well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

I wish I were able to go from the East to the Tennessee line and tell this message to all the people. I have not long to live. I have children and grandchildren; but I say to you that no stroke of this right hand shall aid in putting the Republican party over these children and grandchildren. I say it because I have tried it in the past and, having tried it in the past and having found nothing but ruin and disgrace, I cannot help but fight it now.—C. B. Watson.

Register between now and Saturday and take a hand in the landslide on Tuesday, November 10th.

A delegation of Pittsburg politicians will visit the White House. However, there will be somebody on hand to watch them till they leave.

One-third of the people want prosperity. The other two-thirds would be satisfied with bread and meat and something to wear in the midst of the so-called prosperity that we hear so much about.

When Mr. Andrew Carnegie arrived in New York a few days ago he refused to talk politics. He pays other people to talk his politics and should not be expected to waste his time butting in while the spielers are earning their money.

The man who would vote for a corrupt and dangerous political party because he believes in tariff taxes for the benefit of industries, lays greater store by business interests than he does by the safety and honor of his State. Don't put the dollar in the balance against North Carolina.

Kermit Roosevelt is credited with saying "Dad wants to be the bride at a wedding and the corpse at a funeral." If Kermit said it, he seems to be well acquainted with his father, but if the words are not his they must be those of somebody who knows the Colonel fully as well as the home folks.

Uncle Joe has been awfully quiet during this campaign and hasn't been doing any damage that has attracted attention. He has remained at home and the fact that he can't do as he pleases there shows that some politicians should be kept at home and not be allowed to go to Washington where they can be led into different kinds of mischief.

A man who has made good can be trusted on his merits. A man who has been tried and made a miserable failure wouldn't expect to be trusted. Common sense dictates these two propositions. Nevertheless, the Republican party which has made an ever recurring record of criminal failures in North Carolina asks to be trusted again. To trust it, North Carolinians would violate the rules of common sense. It is not reasonable to suppose that North Carolinians will do anything that would slap common sense in the face.

Postmaster General Hitchcock thinks he has cut down the big deficit of his Department, and sends out news indicating that "one cent letter postage is in sight." It probably is "in sight" just a week or so before the election, but we are going to wait till long after the election before we commit ourselves to "Hitch" on account of what he thinks he has done. We are one of the sufferers from an overindulgence of credulity in the "claims" of such men as Dr. Cook and other undesirable citizens who leave their records so far behind that they are not available when we make a kick for proof.

ROOSEVELTISM DOOMED.

There is something new under the sun when Wall Street rejoices at the prospective downfall of the Republican party in State and Nation. Only a little while ago "Big Business" would be seized with hysteria at the mere thought of Democratic success in a State or Federal election. Not so now. On the contrary, Wall Street is rejoicing at the handwriting on the wall, inevitably foreshowing complete route for the Republicanism from which this country inherited a panic the most disastrous ever experienced in the history of the Republic. The great financiers in New York see that the die is cast for the G. O. P., and they have been cured of their hysteria over Democracy. Catch your breath, will you, and read this from the New York Commercial and Financial Chronicle, of October 22nd:

"The revival of speculation on the Stock Exchange, and the great rise in share values which has occurred during the last two weeks, seems strange to many persons, particularly as general trade is in a very quiet state and net earnings of our railroads are pretty generally beginning to show losses, owing to the great rise in expenses. But rightly understood, there is nothing very remarkable about the change for the better on the Stock Exchange. Wall Street is discounting the future as it always does—it is discounting the improvement in the political situation which the November elections are expected to signalize and foreshadow. For over a year the political clouds have been thickening. Now the sky is expected to clear. The leaders in the financial world have good sources of information on politics as on everything else, and their advices are to the effect that election day next month will mark the doom of the New Nationalism and the emphatic rejection of Rooseveltism in this State. The belief is firmly entertained that John A. Dix, the Democratic candidate for Governor, will overwhelmingly defeat Henry L. Stimson, the Republican candidate, whom Mr. Roosevelt picked out for the honor of holding the office. The fact that in the betting the odds are so strongly in favor of Dix is evidence of the confidence felt in that regard. Moreover, in the estimation of the leading financial interests, there is ground also for the belief that the political victory will not end with the result in this State. Indeed, it would be a rather barren triumph if the Roosevelties should be signally rebuked in this State, and President Taft, the defender and upholder of the Roosevelt policies, should be left with a free hand to carry out these policies through the receipt of a political endorsement in the elections in other States. Confidence exists that the radical element in the dominant party will receive a most severe castigation throughout the greater part of the country—in other words, that the Roosevelt doctrines and policies, whether noisily proclaimed by Mr Roosevelt himself, or quietly but no less determinedly enforced and pushed by President Taft, will go down all along the line. If this should prove true, it would undoubtedly afford occasion for great rejoicing and furnish a genuine basis for a rise in values. For it would mean that radicalism, which has been the bane of the business world for so long, had at last received a definite check—that the movement, instead of spreading any further, was now to recede. It may be that the financial world is too confident in all this, and may meet with disappointment. If so, a violent reaction will follow."

The above is from the leading editorial in the great financial journal from which we quote. The article is the customary "leader" on "The Financial Situation," and it embodies the concensus of opinion recently formed in financial circles where the political pulse is always taken in advance. Wall Street subscribed thousands of dollars to elect Roosevelt and it blames his unwise administration for the great financial disaster from which this country has suffered such terrible consequences. The change of opinion in "Big Business" circles has been brought about by its realization that wisdom and safety do not rest alone in the Republican party. Unreasonable hysteria has given way to the sober common sense that can trust the Democratic party for the conservatism and ability that will protect the interests of the people and at the same time not destroy the interests which it proposes shall be made to respect public rights.

The G. O. P. has the hobbleitis.

The Colonel's next book should be entitled "Men I have Nominated."

Col. Roosevelt continues to add to his reputation as an impossibility.

If Senator Aldrich couldn't keep out of the way of a street car he is bound to be hit by that Democratic landslide which is scheduled to hatten out Tuesday, November 8th.

Commander Peary's Arctic ship, the "Roosevelt," is being used in the wrecking business. The Colonel has reason to resent this interference with what he is doing on his own hook.

Senator Foraker, of Ohio, kicked the jiblets out of "New Nationalism." A kick delivered from the standpoint of animosity is on a parity with the kick of a mule which harbors malice.

THE YOUNG MAN'S FIRST VOTE.

The Star is glad to note that the State Democratic Executive Committee is paying particular attention to the young men of North Carolina who will cast their first vote in this election. Early in the game the Republican party began to appeal to the young men who are to take their places at the polls as first voters. The Republicans are sly and wise, for it was up to them, to secure voters to take the places of the negro voters who have been disfranchised because of the danger to the State from an ignorant suffrage, They knew that they could not appeal to the older men who know the record of the Republican party and are too wise to be seduced by a party which has disgraced and ruined their State whenever it was given a lease of power.

However, the so-called "respectable Republican party of North Carolina" (merely alleged), mistakes the intelligence and patriotism of young Carolinians when they assume that they are ignorant of history and know nothing of the record of the Republican party during the Reconstruction and Fusion periods. Nevertheless, the fact that both the parties have their eyes on the young men, indicates the importance of the young man when he reaches the age of 21. The young man should also recognize his own importance when it is recognized by the political parties which seek to control the government of North Carolina. At the age of 21 the young man becomes a full-fledged citizen and he is not only important to himself but is important to his State. Yea, he is of more importance to his State and society than he is to any political party—either Democratic or Republican.

When the young man gets to be "a man among men" he is ready to exercise the prerogatives and duties of a citizen and voter and it is up to him to act wisely when he casts his first ballot. He should make no mistake that will mar his future or do injury to his State. A grave responsibility rests upon a man when he becomes a voter and it is not only his right but his sacred duty to cast his ballot for the party which he is sure will protect the honor of his State and be the safest guarantee of its progress and development in keeping with the highest ideals.

The young man must decide that for himself. He can only do so by studying the principles of the two parties and posting himself about the respective records of the Democratic and Republican parties. We assume that the young North Carolinians who cast their first votes this year have found out something about the horrible record of the Republican party in the Reconstruction period and about the disgraceful and ruinous record of that party in the recent days of Fusion. We presume the first voters also have taken note of the good Democratic government of their State and are proud of the progress made by their State in elementary and higher education, in the development of manufacturing and in the encouragement and promotion of agriculture. It should not be a hard matter for the young man to decide which one of these parties he will support, for the best interests of his State, in the election to be held on Tuesday, November 8th. The young man who believes in the greatest liberty for the individual, who favors equal rights for all and special privileges for none, who adheres to the belief that he is living in a free and independent State and not in a territory, and who conceives that parties should be as honest and honorable as individual men, will vote the Democratic ticket.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." By the records you shall know the political parties, what they stand for, and what they have done. Besides the fruits of good government and peace and honor for North Carolina, one of the fruits of Democracy is a high type of upright and honored statesmen devoted to the best interests of their beloved State. Contrast them with men produced by Republicanism and make a choice of those whom you would emulate or follow. Judging from Taft's condemnation and rejection of the Republican brand of statesmen, we should say that the young men of North Carolina will refuse to be influenced in their political course by men who could not came up to the standard of their own President while he was in their midst telling them to their faces just what he thought of them and later turning down their most eminent leaders and selecting a Democrat upon whose shoulders to lay the Federal ermine.

The future of North Carolina is in the hands of the young men. Their State will be whatever they make it. They can choose for themselves honored careers or they can take a course which will secue them no honor and may ruin their State. Let the young man have a care. Let the first voter be true to himself and to North Carolina. Young North Carolinians can start right by heeding the advice of that grand old patriot and unsullied North Carolinian—Ex- Governor and Ex-United States Senator Thomas J. Jarvis, of Greenville. His recent appeal to young men is profound and touching, and we cannot do better than advise every young man in this State to write to State Chairman A. H. Eller, Raleigh, N. C., and secure a leaflet containing that appeal, together with timely enunciations by other distinguished North Carolinians.

CURRENT COMMENT.

There are some passages in that Meares letter that makes us laugh. From a cursory reading of Mr. Meares' reply to ex-Governor Aycock we doubt if he has bettered his cause.—Durham Sun.

Mr. Meares has replied in a four and one-half column letter to the speech of ex-Governor Aycock. A man that needs four columns and a half to say a dozen words can't get our sympathy. Blue pencils wear out too quick. —Durham Sun.

People in this section of the State have been interested in the fight between Dr. Faison and Geo. Butler for Congress down east. Our Republican friends have been passing it along that Butler was going to defeat Faison, but the wish is evidently father to the thought, for it comes from a reliable source that Faison is in no danger.—Greensboro Record.

There is nothing the matter with North Carolina summer resorts. That part of the population of South Carolina and Georgia not attracted to North Carolina mountains in the summer, goes to North Carolina coast resorts. So heavy has been the patronage at Wrightsville that the two large hotels there have proved inadequate, and a new $400,000 resort hotel is to b built. And, in order to have it managed properly, a Charlotte man has been named for the job.—Charlotte News.

A rumor comes from New York that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company is negotiating for the purchase of the Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio road. We regad such a deal as entirely improbable. The acquisition of that road would be a valuable one for the Chesapeake & Ohio interests, but it is not likely that the Clinchfield road is one the market. About the time of the completion of this road to Bostic, there was a report that the Seaboard wanted to buy it, and there was a counter report that the Clinchfield wanted to buy the Seaboard. At any rate, there soon ensued a "falling out" between the two roads and the traffic sevice over the Seaboard was not only discontinued, but connection at Bostic was broken. If the Clinchfield is to be bought we hope the Seaboard will get it for that would mean big things for Charlotte. —Charlotte Chronicle.

The purely nominal campaign which the Republicans are waging in the South is shown in the character of campaign orators which the Congressional Committee is sending to the Southern States. In North Carolina, where many circumstances tended at the beginning of the campaign to show a substantial Republican gain, the old policy of riding for a fall was conspicuously re-adopted by the turning over of the machine to Marion Butler, who has made a profession of political treachery and whose connection with a suit on bonds issued during the reconstruction period is one of the darkest spots on the recent history of Southern office holders. With Butler up as an issue, it is plain to see why the Tar Heel State draws as campaign orators gentlemen of a "stand pat" persuasion, who have already been discredited in their own party in places where they might otherwise have been of some use. Among these are, notably, "Sunny Jim" Sherman and Congressman McKinlay, of California, who, as the "stand pat" candidate, was given a severe drubbing when he recently asked for a renomination in his own State. In Wilmington, where the Hon. Iredell Meares is running for Congress and establishing a record as the leading Marathon runner in the task of explaining the Payne-Aldrich tariff, Mr. McKinlay was recently greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience consisting of twenty-five people. As there are more than that many administration office holders in the city of Wilmington, somebody who draws a government salary is evidently due an explanation as to his non-attendance. As it is in Wilmington, so it is elsewhere in the South. The spavined horses are sent to race on the Southern political tracks. The men with crooked voices try their music on a yawning Southern audience. It is all in the way of a farce, and of keeping up an organization which has the purpose of holding office to keep it in existence. The organization, as it is smaller, has the better chance of division among its integral parts. So it is satisfied, and the South ought to be.—Richmond Virginian.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Barn and Stock House Burned—Smallpox, Court, Etc.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Oct. 25.—News reached this city today of the burning Saturday night of the large barn and stock house of Mr. A. C. Hollowell, near Aurora, this county. Several bales of seed cotton, about $200 worth of feed, a number of farming utensils and farming implements were totally destroyed. He managed to save his stock together with $120 in gold which he had secreted in the building. How the fire originated is not known, but there are strong suspicions that it was the work of an incendiary.

Beaufort Superior Court convened Monday for a one week's term. His Honor, Judge Adams, of Asheville, is on the bench and Solicitor H. S. Ward representing the State.

Two cases of smallpox were discovered in this county at Bayside a few days ago, and the County Superintendent of Health, Dr. P. A. Nicholson, together with Dr. J. C. Rodman, the city physician, promptly went down and quarantined the house and vaccinated all the inmates as well as the neighbors.

Tau Tribe No. 18, Improved Order of Red Men, of this city, are making extensive preparations for their regular annual memorial service, October 30th. One of the choirs of the city churches has been secured and the exercises will prove interesting. Chief R. T. Stewart will make the address of the day and Mr. N. L. Simmons will deliver the eulogy.

Miss Lillian Phelps, of Toronto, Canada, delivered an address on Temperance, in Brown's Opera House, this city ,this evening.

CATARRH

A SPECIFIC BLOOD IMPURITY

Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, one which no amount of local treatment will ever permanently cure. The beneficial effects of washes, sprays, inhalations, etc., are only temporary, and when left off the old condition returns, because the blood is infected with catarrhal matter and impurities. This impure condition of the circulation irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membranes and tissues and produces the well known symptoms of ringing noises in the head and ears, mucus in the throat, headaches, watery eyes, partial deafness, sore throat, general impairment of health, etc. This condition will remain, growing worse as long as the catarrhal matter is allowed to remain in the blood. Being a specific blood impurity, there is only one way to cure Catarrh, and that is to purify the blood. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head—in the circulation—and by thoroughly renovating the blood and cleansing it of all impure matter, makes a permanent and lasting cure of the disease. For forty years S. S. S. has been recognized as the best blood purifier, and the thousands of cases of Catarrh it has cured is proof that it is the very medicine needed by those who suffer with this trouble. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

COL. JOHN WILDER ATKINSON

Funeral This Afternoon From St. James' Church—Came to Wilmington After War and Resided Here Since.

The funeral of the late Col. John Wilder Atkinson, who passed away at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his residence, corner Fifth and Dock streets, brief announcement of which was made in yesterday's paper, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from St. James' Episcopal church. The announcement of the passing of Colonel Atkinson, although not unexpected, his condition having been serious for some days, was received with profound regret by many friends in this city.

Colonel Atkinson was born in Lunenburg county, Virginia, May 28th, 1830, making him, therefore, in the 81st year of his age. He was the son of Thomas Atkinson, of Dinwiddie county, Virginia, and Joseph Gwinn Wilder, of Petersburg, Va. As a young man he lived in Baltimore, later moving to Richmond, Va., where he married Miss Mayo, a daughter of Mr. Robert A. Mayo, a prominent citizen of that place. For a number of years he was engaged in the manufacture of tobacco in that city until the Civil War broke out, when he entered the army of the Confederacy as a captain of Infantry and took part in the battle of Bethel. Early in the war he was transferred to the artillery branch of the service and attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He was taken a prisoner at Sailor's Creek and carried to Johnson's Island, where he remained until the close of the war, a short time later.

At the close of the war, in 1865, he came to Wilmington to engage in business, his principal reason for removing to this State being the fact that his father, Bishop Atkinson, lived in this State as Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese. He has since made this city his permanent residence. He was for a number of years engaged in the commission and wholesale grocery business, being senior member of the firm of Atkinson & Shepperdson, and subsequently he engaged in general fire and life insurance and continued in this business until a few years ago, when, on account of failing health, he gave up active work. Among the companies represented by him is the well known Lloyds Insurance Co., of London, Eng., and he held the local agency for this concern uptil the time of his death.

Colonel Atkinson was a fine business man and before his health failed him was very active in the business affairs of the city. He was also very prominent in church affairs, being a member of St. James' Episcopal church for many years.

Colonel Atkinson was married three times, his second wife being Mrs. Wm. F. Potter, and his third, Mrs. Robert Strange, who survives, as do also the following children of his first wife: Messrs. Thomas and John W. Atkinson, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. W. M. Atkinson and Mrs. J. W. Murchison, of this city.

Following the funeral services at St. James' Church this afternoon the body will be tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment will take place.

Colonel Atkinson was a member of Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, and members of the camp are called to meet at the W. L. I. armory at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral services in a body.

RETURNS FROM MOREHEAD CITY.

Mr. W. N. Harriss Adjusted Claim of Yacht Montauk.

Mr. W. N. Harriss, Deputy Clerk of Superior Court, and acting local agent for the Lloyds Insuance Co., of London, Eng., returned yesterday morning from Morehead City, where he went to adjust a claim of the yacht Montauk, which put in the harbor there last week following the northeast storm and hurricane. The yacht's pumps were damaged and Mr. Harriss secured new pumps and had them installed on the boat, which probably proceeded yesterday afternoon on its trip to South America, having been purchased as a pleasure craft by a wealthy man of one of those Republics.

While in Goldsboro yesterday morning Mrs. Harriss saw Vice President Sherman, who arrived on the same train upon which Mr. Harriss took his departure. A delegation of Goldsboro Republicans were at the station to meet the Vice President, who spoke there yesterday and in Raleigh last night. He speaks in Greensboro, Lexington, Salisbury, Concord and Charlotte today and tomorrow at Statesville and Asheville.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE.

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25 cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.

HOME FOR THE HOMELESS

The North Carolina Children's Home Society Now Making Effort to Erect Building—Representative in This City.

Mr. Robt. B. McCord, representative of the North Carolina Children's Home Society, which has headquarters in Greensboro, arrived in the city yesterday morning and will spend several days here in the interest of the movement recently inaugurated by the members of the society to erect a receiving home, the need of which has been felt for some time. The work of the society is well known in Wilmington and has many strong friends here. In an interview yesterday Mr. McCord said:

"This is sometimes called the children's age because many who give themselves to making the world better find their most sure hope in efforts for the children. It is not simply pity and sympathy for distressed childhood that has given the youngster an important place in the labors of philanthropists, but it is wisdom and foresight and love of country that causes taem to bend their energies in the direction of the impressionable child, from which both criminals and good citizens are made.

"The North Carolina Children's Home Society, composed of business men from different parts of the State, was organized seven years ago with Mr. W. B. Streeter as State superintendent. An office was established and the work of rescuing children began immediately. At this time the society needed a receiving home to which it could bring homeless and often much neglected children for temporary care until just the proper family home for the particular child could be found. But it was thought best to demonstrate what could be done by this most modern method of caring for homeless children, and wait until the 'clearing house' became indispensible, before asking the people of the State to invest anything in a building for this purpose.

"In seven years the work undertaken by this Christian but non-sectarian society has grown continually without even the small equipment possessed by similar organizations in other States, and today it is being asked to take one new child each day throughout the year, to place in a family home, or to find some way of relieving its distressful situation.

"Although the methods employed by this society are becoming better understood as its charitable ministrations reach the different communities of the State, yet many have not yet learned that it has spent nothing in buildings, that it owns no great home to which it can bring its wards for rearing. While it owns no such institution its organization and methods do not require it. The society has something better and its resources along this line are continually increasing. It has many of the very best family homes in the State opening their doors each to welcome one or more of these unfortunate children. The owner of these homes say to the innocent child: 'This shall be your home, you shall be our child; we will be your father and mother.' And at that point what was almost a predestined criminal or pauper or worthless citizen gains the promise of a career just as great as the yet undeveloped powers of his physical being will support. He is no longer handicapped by environment, the greatest cause of criminality and pauperism, but all excuse for failure will henceforth lie in an abnormal physical structure that can not by human effort be overcome.

"But with continually increasing demands upon it the North Carolina Children's Home Society feels that it should not deny a more effective work for a better citizenship in this State for lack of a receiving home to which it can bring the destitute child and prepare him for going into those family homes awaiting him. The society is Christian, but belongs to no denomination; it is fraternal, but it is supported by no fraternity, therefore the only loyalty to which it can appeal is loyalty to a higher citizenship in the State, loyalty to innocent but unfortunate children asking only for good mothers and fathers who will give them opportunities such as other children possess.

"A choice lot of 15 acres in the suburbs of Durham has been donated to the society as a site for this receiving home, and I have been engaged by the board of directors to solicit funds for erecting a modern fire proof building for this purpose upon it."

Mr. McCord is a guest at the Colonial Inn and will be here for several days. He hopes that those who know the advantages offered by a good home in childhood will wish a part in providing for the destitute and homeless children of the State when he calls upon them, as he expects to do before leaving the city. He himself has had, besides a good home, a splendid education in several of the best universities in the country, having specialized in sociology, "the science of the human society," at Yale and the University of Chicago, and he is thoroughly conversant with the methods employed in rescuing unfortunate children. He believes that this form of philanthropy is the most hopeful of all, that it is the proper course to pursue in depopulating the penitentiaries and ridding the country of that class which is always expensive and burdensome to the strong and desirable citizen.

A WINTER AVIATION CAMP

Wilmington Will Make Strong and Determined Effort to Bring Aeronauts to This Section—Movement Already Started.

It having come to the knowledge of prominent Wilmingtonians, who are already looking out for anything that would tend to develop this city and section, that prominent aeronauts of New York and other Northern cities are casting about for a suitable place in the South for a Winter Aviation Camp, an effort, strong and determined, is being made to interest those behind the movement in the advantages this section has to offer, and, it is said, that this section has a mighty good show of winning out.

Letters have already been written to those behind the movement pointing out to them the advantages of this section in the way of climate, unexcelled anywhere in the country; its accessibility and also the large area over which the airship could travel with easy landing places. The only other city so far in the race for the camp is Norfolk, Va., and those behind the effort in this city feel that they can easily prove to the aviators the many advantages this section has over any other in the South. The aviators will need about one square mile of flat country, easily accessible, where sheds and shops could be erected and trial tests could be made. It is stated that an ideal place could be secured along the suburban line. The camp would bring to this section about 500 people to spend the entire Winter, besides there would be hundreds, probably thousands, to pay visits here during the time. There is no doubt of the fact that the camp would be a big thing for Wilmington and it is hoped that this section's advantages will be carefully considered by those behind the movement.

THE TEAM RETURNS.

Although not capturing the game, which was a tie, but with a feeling of satisfaction that they had shown superiority over their opponents, with a lighter and with two exceptions, an inexperienced team, members of the Wilmington High School football team returned to the city last night from Fayetteville, where yesterday afternoon they battled with the Donaldson Military School team, the story of which is told in the telegraph columns.

The Wilmington team, accompanied by Prof. H. S. Shaw, principal of the school; Manager Louis Stein, and a large number of rooters, left yesterday morning on the A. & Y., and arrived in Fayetteville in time for late dinner, the train being delayed, and proceeded at once to the fair grounds, where the game was called at 2:20 o'clock.

The Donaldson team will play here about the 19th of November, and Goldsboro is expected to play here November 4th. The management has an attractive schedule in sight.

BROADENING THE WORK

Dr. Joseph Akerman Talks Interestingly of Recent Conference Held at the White House and of Its Results.

At the request of Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, the pastor, who is at Rocky Mount this week attending the sessions of the North Carolina Synod, Dr. Joseph Akerman, president of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A., made an address at the mid-week prayer service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last night, in which he told most interestingly of the Y. M. C. A. A conference held last Thursday at the White House, Washington, D. C., which he attended as one of the two representatives from North Carolina and one of the 150 from the entire country.

Dr. Akerman is a pleasing speaker and is deeply interested in everything that affects the Y. M. C. A. He gave a most interesting sketch of the history of the development of the student department of the Y. M. C. A., both at home and abroad. The work in this department among the young men of the army in this country during the Spanish-American war so impressed President Taft and General Leonard Wood, who had charge of the forces in Cuba, that they gave it their thorough endorsement, and when Dr. John R. Mott, the world's secretary of the student department, suggested to President Taft that they hold a conference in one of the hotels in Washington, the President invited him to hold the conference in the East room of the White House and consented to make one of the addresses. Dr. Akerman said that during the conference it was brought out that the work so impressed the Emperor of Japan during the war with Russia that he subscribed the equivalent of about $5,000 for the purpose of carrying forward the plans of the organization. Dr. Mott and others, said Dr. Akerman, are of the opinion that the East as well as South America and Mexico can best be reached through the young men in educational institutions, who are particularly open to all influences from the West, both Christian as well as others, and are also of the opinion that whatever is done to bring them under the influence of Christianity must be done in the near future. Addresses to this effect were made by Dr. John R. Mott, F. S. Brockman, Mr. Fisher, Mr. Colter, Mr. Tenner, John Wannamaker and others. After receiving all this information it was unanimously adopted as the sense of the convention that the work should receive within the next three years a million and a half dollars to build and equip 49 buildings and the additional expenses of 50 men to take charge of the work in the foreign fields. Dr. Akerman said that although no direct appeal was made the work so appealed to wealthy men present, and others who made their wishes known by letter, that a large part of the amount was announced as assurred before the conference closed, among the contributors being: John D. Rockefeller, $500,000; John Wannamaker, a new building for one of the Chinese cities, in addition to the five he has already given; Mr. Stokes, of New York, and an anonymous friend, who gave $10,000 for a building in Moscow, Russia, in addition to the one already given at St. Petersburg, and several others were also assured. In addition the salaries and expenses of four or five of the men necessary for the work were assurred.

The conference has been planned for several years for the purpose of bringing the needs and opportunities of the Y. M. C. A. before the leading business men of America. Dr. Mott, who presided, was the presiding officer at the great World's Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh, in June of this year. Dr. Akerman said that the conference resulted in taking one of the greatest steps forward the Y. M. C. A. has yet taken and he felt sure that greater things would be accomplished through this agency than ever before. The service was largely attended and each and every one present took deep interest in the remarks of Dr. Akerman, for they, like the speaker, realize that the Y. M. C. A. is doing great work in the elevation of young manhood.

Each of the 150 prominent business men and Y. M. C. A. workers in attendance upon the conference were given an attractive souvenir of the occasion in the form of a booklet, on the cover of which is a photo engraving of the White House, in which the convention was held, and within the covers is given a short sketch of the work of the student department and a number of photographs of buildings erected in foreign countries, and other valuable information. It is indeed a very attractive souvenir of a great gathering and is prized very highly by the recipients.

INJURED BY STREET CAR.

Mate on U. S. Dredge Comstock Injured Last Night—In Port.

First Mate K. Lunn, of the United States dredge Comstock, which arrived in port yesterday to have a new main crank shaft put in at the government yards in this city, was painfully injured early last night at Front and Princess streets, as the result of being struck by a street car. The mate with several companions had shore leave and were boarding a car at the junction when another car on a parallel track moved up and struck him with some violence in the side. He was sent to the company physician, Dr. J. B. Cranmer, and his wounds were temporarily attended to, after which he was taken aboard the dredge some distance down the river. During the night the injuries of the mate began to give him more trouble and Capt. T. M. Thompson, of Southport, of the staff on the dredge, came to the city in the yawl and summoned Dr. T. S. Burbank, who later went to attend the injured man. While his injuries are quite severe, and several ribs may be broken, it is hoped that they are not serious. He was sent to the hospital at a late hour last night.

SMALL FIRE YESTERDAY.

Two Houses, Occupied by Negroes, Slightly Damaged.

For the first time since September 29th the fire department was called out yesterday afternoon. The first alarm was turned in at 3:47 P. M. and was from box 124, corner Ninth and Red Cross streets, on account of a blaze at No. 1013 Campbell street, house owned and occupied by John Wright, Jr., colored. The fire started in the kitchen in the rear of the house and resulted in a damage to the building of about $100. The house next door, owned by Josh Tucker, colored, and occupied by Ephrian Bishop, colored, caught fire from the blaze at Wright's house and was damaged to the extent of about $25. At 4:30 P. M. the department was called out a second time on account of an alarm from box 52, corner Seventh and Queen streets, but there was no need for the services of the firemen. The burning out of a chimney at 523 South Ninth street caused some one to think the house was on fire and turned in an alarm.

TWO STEAMERS ARRIVE.

The vessel was docked at the wharf across from the foot of Princess street yesterday to begin loading.

The British steamer Torgorm, Capt. Falconer, arrived yesterday from Antigua, West Indies, to receive cargo of cotton from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son. The ship previously visited this port for the staple during the season of 1908.

DEATH OF MISS BRITTAIN.

Occurred at Pollocksville Tuesday—Sister and Cousin Here.

Mrs. Geo. Benson and Mrs. J. S. Brittain, of this city, yesterday attended the funeral of Miss Acree Brittain, who passed away Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at her home at Pollocksville, after an illness of typhoid fever. The death of Miss Brittain, who has many friends here, where she visited during the past Summer, will be learned of with much sadness. The deceased was 19 years of age. Besides Mrs. Geo. Benson, a sister, and Mr. J. S. Brittain, a cousin, of this city, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. V. G. Brittain, and a brother, Mr. A. G. Brittain, of Portsmouth, Ohio. The funeral was held from the home yesterday and the remains interred at Pollocksville.

Death of Infant Son.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Chadwick deeply sympathize with them in the death of their four-year-old son, Ferriman Chadwick, which occurred at the family residence, on the Castle Haynes road, about three miles from town, Tuesday night. The funeral was held at Acorn Branch Methodist church yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist Church. There were present a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends. The interment was in the graveyard there.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May be Sapping Your Life Away. Wilmington People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep your kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Wilmington testimony to prove it.

Mrs. W. W. Mince, 706 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am very thankful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the great benefit I received from their use. For a long time I was a victim of kidney trouble. The kidney secretion were unnatural and caused me much annoyance. My back ached almost constantly and some days I could hardly get around to do my housework. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box at Robert R. Bellamy's Drug Store and began using them. They helped me more than any other preparation I had ever taken, strengthening my back and kidneys and invigorating my whole system."

MISS DAISY STERN THE BRIDE OF MR. WILLIAMSON.

A wedding of much interest to a great many friends in this city was celebrated at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Chas. L. Stern, No. 512 Nun street, at 8:30 o'clock last night, when Miss Daisy Alice Stern, an attractive young lady, and Mr. James Bernard Williamson, a well known and popular young man of this city, plighted their troth, the impressive ceremony being performed by Rev. J. W. Potter, formerly of this city, but now of Edenton, N. C., an uncle of the groom, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The home was attractively decorated with potted plants, cut flowers, chrysanthemums, etc., carrying out the color scheme of green and pink most effectively. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk and carried a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The wedding march was skilfully rendered by Mr. Pigford.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and it proved a thoroughly delightful occasion for the large number in attendance. The many handsome and costly wedding presents were tastefully displayed.

Mr. Williamson is connected with the local Stieff Piano House and is a young man held in the highest esteem by all who know him. His bride, a most attractive young lady, is a daughter of Mr. Chas. L. Stern, who recently moved to Wilmington from Norfolk, Va., to take a position with the Hanover Iron Works, and is a sister of Mrs. Reynor Cooley, also of this city. CABBAGE WORM NOT POISONOUS

Recently a "cabbage snake" was found in a cabbage head at the home of Mr. N. Humphrey, corner Fourth and Walnut streets, and he sent the specimen to Raleigh to be examined, report of which was received yesterday from Mr. Franklin Sherman, Jr., State Entomologist, which was as follows:

"Upon examination I find that this creature is commonly known as cabbage snake. It is truly a kind of worm and not a snake at all and although many examinations have been made of this creature both by chemists and biologists, no evidence of any form of poison has ever been found. The creature is quite often found in heads of cabbage and is sometimes found in the core of apples (usually, we believe, in apples which have already been injured by the common apple worm or codling moth and which have fallen to the ground). This same species, or at least a worm very much like it, is sometimes found living in the bodies of grasshoppers, crickets and some other insects. Just how it gets into all the situations in which it is found is not always easy to understand, but it is perhaps carried by the insects which it attacks (grasshoppers, crickets, etc.) and left in some of these situations. Although there has been a great deal written concerning this socalled cabbage snake, it is, so far as we know, perfectly harmless to man and there is no occasion for abandoning the use of cabbage as a table vegetable. It is, of course, worth while to wash all such vegetables thoroughly before cooking."

RURAL TEACHERS TO MEET.

Second Gathering of the Fall Months Will Be Held Saturday.

The second meeting of the Fall of the New Hanover Coutny White Teachers' Association will be held at the Court House Saturday, and it promises to be the most interesting held in s me time. As soon as he noticed the proposition of the Wilmington Dental Association to the graded schools, Prof. Catlett, superintendent f public instruction, immediately addressed a letter to Dr. J. W. Stanly, president, asking if it would be practical extend the propositons to include the pupils of the rural schools. Dr. Stanly promptly replied to the effect that the Dental Association would be glad indeed to give any aid possible to the pupils of the rural schools. The matter will come up for consideration at the next meeting of the teachers Saturday and it is probable that arrangements may be made by which the rural school children who desire it may have their mouths examined free by the members of the Dental Association.

SEVEN HUNDRED THE GOAL

Campaign for New Members Now on at the Y. M. C. A.—Several Teams Contesting for First Place. Banquet.

Unless all signs fail the membership of the Y. M. C. A. will be increased to 700 during the next week as the result of the membership campaign now in progress. It has been felt for some time that the membership of the local association is not what it should be in a city the size and importance of Wilmington and although several successful membership contests have been held in recent years the campaign now on is expected to eclipse any former one in adding new names to the roll.

The Y. M. C. A. is an important factor in the life of the young men of Wilmington and those now connected with the association are desirous that their friends should also be members and are urging them to join, with the result that many new names are secured every day. Several teams have been organized and as an inducement it has been decided to give a banquet to the team securing the largest number of points and this, it is believed will assure the 700 mark before the close of the contest one week from tonight. Each team has entered the contest with a determination of winning the distinction of having secured the largest number of new members. The teams now stand: David G. Worth Bible Class, 92 points; Busy Men's Gymn class, 62 points; Dormitory Men, 54 points; Juniors, 5 points. The rules governing the contests are as follows: Each dollar brought in is good for two points. All memberships to start from November 1st. Notes for 30 and 60 days to count as cash in the contest.

MR. McQUEEN RETURNS.

Delightful Trip to Pacific Coast.—Bankers' Association Meeting.

Returning from a delightful trip of a month, three thousand miles across the continent, attending the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association at Los Angeles as one of the delegates from this State, and spending some time on the Pacific coast and in the great Northwest, Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, reached the city yesterday morning and is being pleasantly greeted by his many Wimington friends. Mr. McQueen has written some interesting observations during his trip, which have been read with much interest by his Wilmington friends, and it is hoped that he may be induced to write some others. He and his party left New York on September 26th, on one of three sections of ten coaches each, of the Bankers' Special and after spending a short time at the Grand Canyon, reached Los Angeles in time for the Bankers' Association. The party returned via San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver and thence east via the Canadian Pacific across the Rockies.

Misses Sue and Agnes McQueen, who accompanied their father on the most delightful trip, expect to reach home a little later.

"GRANDFATHER CLAUSE" VALID.

Decision of Oklahoma Supreme Court —As to Voting.

Guthrie, Oklahoma, Oct. 26.—That the "Grandfather Clause" constitutional amendment is valid, was decided by the State Supreme Court today. The court held also that the special procedure under which the amendment was adopted is valid, all votes not cast against the proposition being counted for it.

The "Grandfather Clause" provides that no man whose grandfather could not vote, can exercise the right of franchise. It will thus disfranchise many negroes whose grandfathers were slaves.

Theatrical

Just a true, clean, American play is perhaps the best description that can be given of "Polly of the Circus," which will be the attraction at the Academy of Music next Wednesday night, coming here with the endosement of a solid year's run to capacity business at the Liberty Theatre, New York City, and another season equally divided between Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. It is perhaps but fitting that in a season remarkable for attacks by religious and civic organizations upon recent plays because of their alleged questionable tnedency, that "Polly of the Circus" should be adding to its laurels as the cleanest and the prettiest story told on the stage in the past decade. There are no high sounding dissertations on marriage and divorce; no acute analysis of emotions, but just a compelling human study of a tender child, born and reared among the garish life of the circus tent, thrown by accident into the home of a young village clergyman, and awakening to love, to knowledge, to hope and to God. The vain endeavors of misguided and bigotted church-woman and deacons to separate the girl and young minister, the eager self-sacrifice of the little circus rider when she realizes that the clergyman's career may be imperiled by her love, and the final happy ending of the story after the stress, combine to make a play that has brought tears, laughter and sheer joy to hundreds of thousands of delighted theatre-goers, and which will undoubtedly prove the best attraction here in many a day.

If you know anyone whose tendency is to pass by on the othe side, any one who is pessimistic or gloomy, anyone who has lost faith, in fact anyone into whose life there has not come sufficient sunshine, send that person to hear from the lips of "Polly" the old words: "Whiter thou goest, I will go, for thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

At the Crystal Palace.

Special matinees for children will be given at the Crystal Palace Friday afternoons. Little Miss Arlette Lewis, who has made a decided hit at the theatre this week, will be seen in the little comedy drama "Maxie" or "The Burglar's Child." She is about 6 years old and is conceded by many of the leading critics to be one of the world's greatest child actresses. Miss Lewis, fo the remainder of the week, will present "Jimmie and Newsie." The performances Friday and Saturday will be especially for the benefit of the children and there will doubtless be large numbers of young folks at each performance.

At Joyland.

Two big feature pictures will be offered at Joyland today. "The Return of Young Dan," a thrilling Western film, and "His Lordship," a light drama that will please both old and young. The public is asked to come and note the improvement in the pictures since the installation of the new machine. The programme changes daily and Joyland is growing more and more in in the popular favor.

At the Bijou Today.

REACTION IN COTTON MARKET

Lost Half of Tuesday's Advances on Renewal of Buying Movement Yesterday—Closed 15 Points Decline.

New York, Oct. 26.—A renewal of yesterday's buying movement caused an opening advance in today's cotton market, but prices quickly weakened and the market later lost fully half yesterday's advance, the close being easy at a net loss of 23 to 38 points.

The opening day was steady and first prices were two to eight points higher on over-night buying orders with December selling at 14.55, January at 14.57 and May at 14.73, or into new high ground for the movement started by yesterday's ginning figure. But yesterday's big buyers seemed to be giving very little support and as soon as the over-night buying orders had been executed, the market turned easier under heavy realizing. At first there was some resistance to the decline owing to a demand from Wall street houses with western connections and broker supposed to be operating for one of the big Southern bull interests, but reports from Liverpool of a slack trade demand and freer Southern spot offerings on the advance inspired operations for a reaction, the strong spot people, who gave market so much support on the recent decline were sellers and during the afternoon offerings became overwhelmingly heavy with local bears appearing almost as aggressive as before the census figures were published. Closing prices were at the lowest point of the day, and in the case of May contracts showed a decline of over 40 points from the high level of the morning. Southern spot markets officially reported early were 1-16c. lower to 1-8c. higher. A report by a prominent local authority indicating that a considerably smaller percentage of the crop had been picked in Georgia and Alabama than to the same date last year seemed to strengthen arguments that the small ginning figures were partly due to the lateness of the crop but today's selling seemed to be chiefly inspired by claims that the ginning report had failed to stimulate the demand from mills, and that Southern holders were offering spots freely on the advance. Weather conditions were regarded as generally satisfactory beyond the possibility that a high barometer shown in the extreme northwest would work down into the belt and cause frosts by the end of the week.

Receipts at the ports today 58,935 bales against 68,014 last week and 67,865 last year. For the week 450,000 against 451,576 last week and 420,464 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,073 against 17,638 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady, 15 points decline; middling uplands 14.45; do. gulf 14.70; sales 2,032 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed easy.

INFLUENCE ON STOCKS WANING

Certain Factors on Market Showed Weakness—Force of Money Market Feature—Conditions Yesterday.

New York, Oct. 26.—The waning influence of some of the factors, which have been relied on to lift and hold the prices of stocks became evident in today's stock market. The growing firmness of the money market made a more positive force on the side of depression. The technical position was in favor of the party of reaction as a result of the accumulation of holdings in the course of the advance with no other purpose than to re-sell at a profit. Such selling was heavy at times, but closing prices were above the lowest.

The net earnings for the quarter reported by the United States Steel Corporation was almost exactly in agreement with estimates current in the stock market for several days preceding. The showing, therefore, had lost all power to stimulate activity, except as there were some realizing sales from those that had counted on its favorable effect to make a demand for the stock. The sub-treasury operations took another large sum from the banks, bringing the total for the banking week to $4,910,000. A credit balance for the government institution at the clearing house points to another large addition to the week's withdrawals tomorrow. The interior demand for currency has expanded again unexpectedly this week. The stiffening of the call money rate yesterday and today is looked upon as a mere preliminary to the even high rates next week. The private discount rate in London today rose to within a shade of the official bank rate, indicating the success of the bank in making its rate effective. The supposition, therefore, was against another advance in the official tomorrow. The high rates of interest charged at the stock market settlement for carrying over Americans was a symptom of the money strain. The fall in British consols to 78 3-4 marked so rapid a decline in that premier security as to demoralize investment issues. The whole problem of interest rates, investment returns and the high prices of commodities is brought sharply into relief again by this episode.

Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $2,574,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 693,600 shares.

WEATHER CONTROLS MARKET.

South Met Each Advance With Selling Orders for Cotton.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Oct. 26.—So long as the weather continues as favorable for the crop as at present, the South may be expected to meet each advance with selling orders, as it did today. It was the offerings from there, together with the selling by spot houses who bought freely last week, that finally broke the market to its lowest point at the close. There is some doubt as to whether the buyers of yesterday were able to sell in any quantity. The general idea is that they did not, but undoubtedly some of them did, through other brokers. It is the belief that the weather is improving the yield of cotton as it did the yield of corn. Liverpool should come 12 to 13 points lower, but we hardly think that it will break so badly. We look for a somewhat higher opening here tomorrow, depending on weather conditions, which will control.

Many Doctors Prescribe

proprietary medicines under a Latin name charging for the written prescription three times the cost of the medicine, and do not hesitate to condemn that self-same medicine if it is advertised or mentioned by the public.

There are, however, many honest doctors who do not hesitate to openly recommend and prescribe such standard remedies as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

The Bible Society.

Among the most interesting facts to be presented to Synod are these concerning the work of the American Bible Society during the past year. The year just closed has been one of the best in the history of the society, yet the present endowment yields only enough to cover about one-seventh of its financial needs. Less than $90,000 were available last year for current expenses. During the year more than one million copies of the scriptures were circulated and in this country copies published in 65 dialects were circulated. It is expected that during the present year at least 100,000 copies, in more than 30 dialects, will be distributed in the South Atlantic States alone.

Home Missions.

Home Missions will be one of the most important subjects to be considered during this session of Synod and in this connection the reports of the evangelists of Synod will receive careful attention. Rev. Geo. W. Belk is one of the evangelists and during the past Summer almost his entire time has been spent in holding meetings within the bounds of Asheville Presbytery. Since the first of June he has held ten meetings, most of them in the country and they have resulted in a large number of professions of conversion and additions to the membership of the church. One of the most successful of these meetings was held at a point known as Big Ivy, about 25 miles northeast of Asheville. This is a point where, until within the past 21 years, the gospel was rarely preached. It was here that the late Rev. E. Mack Davis, an honored member of this Synod, preached in the face of opposition and persecution 12 years ago. The moonshiners warned him and told him that his life would be in danger as he did not cease preaching and he had his life insured at once for $10,000, with the understanding that if he were killed the money should be used for the purpose of erecting ten new churches in that section of the State. He was not killed, but his horse was cruelly mistreated, his hair being clipped so close as to cause him to resemble a mule as much as possible. Mr. Davis turned this act of cruelty to good account by having photographs of the horse taken and selling enough of them to enable him to build another church. Mr. Belk found the people here very willing to hear the gospel and responsive to its appeal. They came from miles in the country to attend the services and were enthusiastic in their interest.

Dillingham is another home mission point in Asheville Presbytery and there a school is carried on by Rev. J. C. Brown, who is both a preacher and teacher and in this school there are 150 pupils.

Asheville Presbytery is pushing the work of the church in the county and is meeting with decided success in this work as is evidenced by the young men in that section who are studying to prepare themselves for the ministry and by other signs of progress which means much to the church. After the close of Synod Mr. Belk will take up again his evangelistic work in Albemarle Presbytery.

The First Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington, continues to hold its place at the head of the roll of honor in the Synod on account of having contributed to foreign mission more than $4 per member. The report on foreign missions submitted this evening shows that this church contributed to this cause during the year just closed $30 per member as against $17.26 last year. The total amount contributed by the Synod is $73,699 as against $58,418 last year and $38,061 two years ago, with a total church membership of less than 45,000.

The address of the evening was on the subject of Korea and Rev. W. D. Reynolds, who has spent seevral years as a missionary in that country was the speaker.

The report of the committee on Union Theological Seminary was submitted and adopted at the close of the popular meeting.

William Hawley shouted with elation when he heard of his brother's success and safety. For the past week he had been under a constant strain and had been in hourly communication with points in Canada from which he hoped to receive news of the landing. As the outlook grew less hopeful day by day, his anxiety became greater, but through it all, he did not lose faith in his brother's ability to come through alive. He had sent J. H. Pope and Edmund Stratton to Ottawa to carry on the search but he notified them tonight of the happying ending.

The America II. was last reported assing over Maple City, Mich., October 18th. Sky gazers were able to read the name on the balloon, but thereafter all trace of her was lost. Various prophecies of the outcome were made; but the main contention was that the aeronauts had landed in an inaccessible region early last week (as in fact they did), and were unable to make their way to civilization. Those who took the gloomier view were inclined to think, as the days passed, that the men had perished from cold and hunger.

The outlook was made darker by the suggestion of drowning, a fate thought not unlikely by the finding of a balloon basket on the shores of Lake Superior, near Port Arthur, Mich., today. But that the basket was not the America 3, was conclusively shown by later developments.

Win Gordon Bennett Cup.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—A. B. Lambert, president, and L. D. Dozier, St. Louis members of the International Balloon Race Committee, announced tonight that there was no question, but that Alan R. Hawley and Augustus Post had won the James Gordon Bennett cup, and the cash prizes for distance.

Mr. Lambert, when informed by The Associated Press, of the safety of Hawley and Post, said he was pleased that they had retained the International balloon race for America next year.

"I am certain that the War Department figures to be furnished our committee will show that Hawley and Post traveled the longest distance. It has been a remarkable contest, fraught with difficulty for the aeronauts and much anxiety for those who remained at home."

It is likely that the distance traveled by Hawley and Post to the Peribonka river is nearly 1,350 miles.

Receive Word at Quebec.

Quebec, Oct. 26.—Word was received here tonight from St. Ambroise, Saguenay, that the balloon America II. landed near Peribouka, Chicoutimi county, 25 miles from Rubervale, on the 19th. Messrs Hawley and Post descended by White river and Bear river, and left for Chicoutimi, which is 221 miles north of Quebec, where train connection is had by the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway.

Greatest Flight on Record.

New York, Oct. 26.—The new record established by Hawley and Post unofficially estimated at 1,350 miles, exceeds all previous flights. Only this year Count Odensoff, of Russia, claimed to have flown 1,324 miles in 40 hours, but the figures were not officially verified. If the estimated distances are made official, the long standing record of Count de La Vaulx, of 1,193 miles, made in 1900, in a flight from France to Siberia, has been broken by at least three of the contestants in the recent race—the America II., the Dusseldorf II., and the Germania. The official figures will be required, however, definitely to settle the question.

St. Louis, Oct. 26.—President Lamber tonight called a special meeting of the Aero Club board of governors to figure distances. L. D. Dozier, a member of the contest committee, said there was no doubt in his mind that Hawley and Post had established a remarkable world's record for distance.

Mr. Dozier expressed the opinion that the America must have covered nearly 1,000 miles in less than 24 hours, because the balloon was last spoken near Thompsonville, Mich., Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

COTTON SEED FLOUR.

New Article of Diet Being Made in Texas Territory.

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 29—Housekeepers in the North are beginning to use, in constantly increasing numbers, cotton seed flour. This is a product made from the cotton seed, producing a richer bread or cake than the wheat flour. There are several mills now in operation in Texas, although cotton seed flour is, comparatively, a new discovery. The statement is made by J. W. Allison, of Ennis, Texas, known all over the world as the inventor of cotton seed flour, who says that the demand for the new product is growing with great strides and that in a few years he expects to see it become a general household necessity. Other manufactured products from cotton seed meal and oil are also growing in popular favor, says Mr. Allison.

MONTGOMERY IN LEAGUE.

President Joseph Pays Fine Assessed Against Player.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 26.—Montgomery will continue in the Southern League. President Joseph has paid the fine of $500 assessed by the league in the Jaul case and the Business Mens' League has guarantee the league $60,000 paid admissions for the coming season. A guarantee fund of $5,000 in cash is being raised to meet any deficit in the treasury of the club owners next season.

ECHOES OF HURRICANE.

Only Two Perished In Inslands—Wrecks of Vessels.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 26.—Only two lives are known to have been lost in the Ten Thousand Islands, off the Gulf coast of Florida, as a result of the recent hurricane, according to members of the crew of the schooner Mayflower, who were brought here by the schooner Florida. The Mayflower was dashed to pieces on Plover Key Point, where it was anchored. The crews of both vessels were forced to seek shelter in trees to escape drowning in the great waves which swept the islands.

According to the sailors, the wrecks of four large schooners and a number of smaller vessels were seen on the shores on the way from the islands to Key West, but there were no signs of the sailors.

No definite idea of the loss of life can yet be obtained, but it is believed to have been heavy as all the islands were under water. At Flamingo and other points not a dwelling of any description was left standing.

HOME RULE IN BRITAIN.

Opposition to Policy Naming in Unionist Party.

London, Oct. 25.—The idea of home rule all around as the first step toward the realization of a Federal empire appears likely to become a working policy.

The fact that The Times has just published a series of articles, advocating a comprise, urging that the situation is quite changed since the "bloody eighties," and that the Unionists might now, with dignity, acquiesce in, although they could not initiate a policy of home rule, shows how Unionists hostility toward home rule is winning.
